Hello Mr. Mallikarjun,

Would like to introduce our Company Cognitive clouds Software Private Limited, we are interested to do a campus drive at your prestigious institute for BCA / MCA / BE/ CS/ IS any stream of students.

Just a little Brief about our company...

Founded by enterprise software veterans in 2012, we're a product development company, transforming founders' and product owners' visions into beautiful intuitive mobile and web software products that scale to support millions of users. We bring a fresh perspective to your problems through our agile design and development process that accelerates your time to market and ensures you launch the right product for the right people at the right time.

Google announced the Google Developer Agency program at Google I/O this year and we're proud to be among the first 13 agencies ever certified by Google for Android development.

We partner with ambitious, game changing and forward-looking companies to design and develop awesome products.

We help top startups and companies build remarkable web, mobile and tablet products. The products we build help early stage startups raise millions and established companies crush their sales targets. We're among a handful of companies who can turn simple sketches into fully featured products that work on any device. Focus is what creates value, so we utilize our proven process to take your first version product across the finish line. We work with diverse founders and product owners in industries that range from agriculture to travel, so you can be assured that our team has the expertise required to help you build the right product for your target users.

When you meet your goals, we meet our goals. This is our only success metric. Before we draw a single pixel or write a single line of code, we review your business goals to ensure we've crafted a plan to achieve them. Whether you're racing towards a hard deadline, building the first product of its kind or leapfrogging a competitor, we work with you to understand what will make our partnership successful.

We love big ideas. We strive to work with founders and business leaders who have ambitions of creating new markets and defining new industries. When you aim to push the limits of technical and social possibilities, we get excited and deliver our best work. We're open to sharing risks and rewards by entering into creative business relationships that incentivizescce ss.

Firstly we are looking for Bright Minds who are eager to Learn quick, should have very good aptitude and ready to work in areas of Crypto Currency. Mobile Apps, IOT, Security and other Innovative Fields of Technology.
